Dear Citizens of Naperville,

It is my pleasure to present our 2014 Crime Prevention Calendar.

I wish to thank our many sponsors for making this year's calendar possible. The calendar project provides Naperville school children with the opportunity to be creative by drafting colorful drawings depicting very important crime prevention messages.

This is the 28th edition of the calendar.

On the cover is A. George Pradel, who will be completing 20 years as mayor of the city of Naperville in May of 2015. Pictured with Mayor Pradel are many of the children whose lives he has touched throughout his years of service to our community.

Mayor Pradel began serving our community as a police officer in 1966 and spent 27 years with the Naperville Police Department as a patrol officer, sergeant, and lieutenant before retiring. During his years of service, he was best known for the positive impact he made in the lives of children, where every summer he would teach hundreds of children the value of being safe and that police officers are your friends and here to help.

As police chief, it has been an honor to work closely with Mayor Pradel and witness his public service in action. Simply stated, public service is truly about putting others before self. Mayor Pradel epitomizes this value and there are a multitude of real life examples where he has placed the needs of others as his top priority.

On behalf of the Naperville Police Department, we commend and thank Mayor Pradel for his many efforts in making Naperville one of the best cities in America to live and raise a family.

Sincerely,

Robert W. Marshall

Chief of Police

Thank You!

Don't Talk to Strangers

Joann Joseph · Grade 2 · Kingsley School

Safety Town Through the Years

ParentsMatterToo is a network of connected parents committed to providing nonjudgmental opportunities to share struggles, provide support, and ultimately strengthen the fabric of our families and community.

We believe in building resilient kids and families who say NO to destructive behaviors and YES to endless possibilities. This program offers parents a safe environment to discuss at-risk situations and be strengthened to challenge our children's choices about social issues, drugs and alcohol. We do that through:

Our Interactive Website, with answers from local professionals and links to the most trusted national experts. This knowledge empowers parents to be the strong positive influence their children need.

Conversation Circles, guided small groups, held throughout the community. Conversation Circles are opportunities for parents to share life experiences, discuss parenting situations, and gain knowledge and support.

Speakers providing expert information to help parents become knowledgeable and influential, gaining skills they need to effectively challenge our children's choices.

Parents Matter Too

Presents:

Parent Conversation Circles

Influential parents raising resilient kids in strong families

As a parent, what do you need to Know, Say, and Do
to keep your kids on the right track?

ParentsMatterToo
– A KidsMatter Initiative
Contact us at:
info@parentsmattertoo.org
or phone 630-527-6562.

Parent Conversation Circles are a safe place to connect with others and strengthen our Naperville Area Community to enjoy the benefits of shared parenting. You'll engage with ParentsMatterToo resources and gain confidence in knowing where to turn for parenting answers.

Our kids need to know that they don't need to drink, or smoke, or take anything to be different than they are right now. The 3 main parenting concepts in Parent Conversation Circles empower parents to provide a dependable, accepting, open relationship which sends that very message. In just 3 sessions parents will:

- Articulate their values and share them with their kids.
- Notice and accept the things that make their children unique.
- Gain skills for deepening a relationship with each of their children.

Join a Parent Conversation Circle that is just right for you! Groups are forming all around the Greater Naperville Area with unique specializations tailored for the interests and needs of families of all shapes and sizes.

Here is a sampling of the Circles you can choose from:

- Parents of Teenagers
- Parents of Elementary Aged Children
- Parents of Preschoolers
- Single Dads
- Parents of Junior High Girls
- Parents of Teens in Recovery
- Parents of Sexually Assaulted Children

Dear Students and Parents,

I am proud to present the 28th annual Crime Prevention Calendar that features artwork from talented students who attend various elementary schools in the Naperville area. Because of the generosity of past and present sponsors such as the Naperville Jaycees and the Exchange Club, we have had the privilege of supplying this calendar to families and homes all across Naperville for the past 27 years. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Exchange Club, the Naperville Police Department and all of the many sponsors and contributors who have collaborated to make this year's calendar an essential tool in communicating the importance of safety to our young people.

There is something about a message from a child that has the ability to touch our hearts and make us realize how important safety is in our lives. These colorful, animated drawings are fantastic because they convey a simple, yet very powerful message of safety. And it's a message that is easily understood by students, their peers and adults alike. As a result, this calendar serves as one of the best pieces of crime prevention public relations that we can have in the City of Naperville!

We are fortunate to have such talented children who really want to share their ideas of safety with all the citizens of Naperville. When I taught first-grade students at Safety Town as a police officer, they really understood what we were trying to teach them and often times later encouraged their own parents to obey the law. I firmly believe children have a wonderful way of teaching us the importance of safety, and this calendar reaffirms that notion through the imagination and creativity behind their message.

A special thank you goes to all the children who worked so hard on their drawings that were included in this calendar. Be proud of your work and accomplishments and know that your message is being displayed in almost every home in Naperville. Your artwork inspires me and I would like to thank everyone involved for letting me be a part of this very important crime prevention initiative for the past 27 years.

Sincerely,

A. George Pradel, Mayor
City of Naperville
