Co-hosted with JJHS counselors

EXECUTIVE FUNCTIONING

SPEAKER: ELIZABETH HOOPER

Tonight's presentation will review the many components included in the umbrella term, "Executive Functioning". Ms. Hooper will provide developmentally appropriate Executive Functioning skill expectations for pre-teens and teens. A spectrum of strategies for parents to implement at home will be offered. Ms. Hooper will share and highlight effective, research-based resources. Parents and guests are encouraged to bring questions.

Elizabeth Hooper brings well over a decade of work focused on meeting the needs of students with disabilities and their families. She has a Bachelor's Degree in General Education and a Master's Degree in Special Education. Ms. Hooper has worked with students and families through the private sector since 2011, working as a Special Education Advocate and as an Executive Functioning Coach. Since 2016, she has been advocating through the firm Matt Cohen and Assoc. Ms. Hooper knows that every student and family has unique circumstances, priorities and values. Her aim is to empower family and student to identify individual goals and provide strategies to make and maintain meaningful progress.
