NNHS Speech Syllabus

Mission
To educate students to be self-directed learners, collaborative workers, complex thinkers, quality producers, and community contributors.

Course Description
The Speech Communication course centers on the belief that people are defined by how and why they communicate. Therefore, speech communication integrates the process of literacy: speaking, listening, writing and reading. The structure of this course emphasizes the complementary relationship between informal and formal communication experiences, as students will learn to communicate to inform, persuade and to communicate in a small group situation. With this structure, students will be able to acquire communication strategies for effective intrapersonal and interpersonal communication. Assessment of student progress is based on feedback from peers, teacher, and self-evaluations.
